

11-2-1984

Election Experts Available for Comment

Follow this and additional works at: https://ecommons.udayton.edu/news_rls

Recommended Citation

"Election Experts Available for Comment" (1984). News Releases. 4675.
https://ecommons.udayton.edu/news_rls/4675

This News Article is brought to you for free and open access by the Marketing and Communications at eCommons. It has been accepted for inclusion in News Releases by an authorized administrator of eCommons. For more information, please contact frice1@udayton.edu, mschlangen1@udayton.edu.

The University of Dayton

News Release

ELECTION EXPERTS AVAILABLE FOR COMMENT

DAYTON, Ohio, November 2, 1984 -- As the political campaigns wind down and the final votes are cast, further analysis of the "meaning" of what has occurred will be necessary. From an historical perspective, or from an international angle, what does the final outcome of this presidential campaign really mean? Will the economic indicators change abruptly right after the elections? How do the "polls" affect the public's voting habits?

The University of Dayton has a number of experts available to help you on election day or after with your coverage and analysis. Our academic professionals will address the issues of the day.

Available for comment:

Political Science

Gerald Kerns, Ph.D.

Norman Fogel, Ph.D.

History

Roberta Alexander, Ph.D.

Patrick Palermo, Ph.D.

International Affairs

Margaret Karns, Ph.D.

Economics

John E. Weiler, Ph.D.

John E. Rapp, Ph.D.

To schedule interviews and for more information, contact Ro Nita Hawes-Saunders, director of News Services, University of Dayton, 229-3241.