DAYTON, Ohio, April 23, 1987--A University of Dayton senior has been selected by Good Housekeeping magazine as one of the country's most promising woman graduates of 1987.

Laura Pajak, a biology major from Avon Lake, will be featured in an article entitled, "100 Women of Promise, Class of '87," which will appear in the magazine's July issue. She was chosen because of her "notable campus and community activity" as well as her academic achievements.

Over 3,200 colleges and universities were contacted by the magazine, and a panel of nationally prominent educators selected the 100 finalists.

While at UD, Pajak has participated in the university's Wind Ensemble, helped establish the local chapter of the Phi Sigma Sigma National Sorority, serves as president of the recently established Golden Key honor society, and has worked on numerous community service projects. Academically, she has consistently been named on the Dean's List, and has been honored as a University Scholar.

Pajak will receive her bachelor's degree at UD's commencement exercises on April 26. She plans to attend graduate school at the University of Cincinnati in the fall.
