UD ANNOUNCES TUITION, FEE, ROOM AND BOARD INCREASES

DAYTON, Ohio, January 27, 1988--The University of Dayton will raise tuition, fees, and room and board rates by an average 9 percent for full-time undergraduate students -- an increase consistent with national averages, announced Brother Bernard J. Ploeger, S.M., vice president for administration.

The majority of the revenue (6 percent) will be earmarked for program maintenance, Ploeger said, with the remainder being divided between University-funded financial aid, capital projects and new programming. UD's Board of Trustees approved the rate increases at its January meeting.

Effective July 1:

-- undergraduate tuition will rise from $5,980 to $6,580;

-- the basic University fee, which helps support such student activities as intramural athletics, the Student Government Association and the Kennedy Union, will increase from $310 to $340;

-- double-occupancy room rates in the dormitories will rise from $1,480 to $1,570; and

-- a seven-day meal ticket will increase from $1,570 to $1,720.

According to a recent survey conducted by the Chronicle For Higher Education of 1987-88 tuition and fees at 23 private universities in Ohio, only Cedarville and Mt. Vernon offered lower rates than UD. Among the nation's top 25 Catholic universities, only the University of Scranton and St. John's University offer lower tuition, according to a 1987 telephone survey conducted by UD's Office of Institutional Studies.

UD is consistently listed as a "bargain school" in the yearly Best Buys in College Education, edited by New York Times education editor Edward B. Fiske.
