BIBLICAL STORIES TO BE EXPERIENCED DURING SUMMER TRIP TO ISRAEL

DAYTON, Ohio, Nov. 21, 1989--The University of Dayton's religious studies department will be leading a journey to Israel this summer to help participants understand and personally experience the transformative power of biblical stories. The trip will be led by Conrad L'Heureux, professor of religious studies, and will be held from June 17 to July 7.

The program, designed for graduate students in religious studies, is also open to people in ministry or other helping professions as well as qualified individuals who would like to participate for personal enrichment. Cost of the program is $1,850 (which includes instructional costs, room, partial board and local transportation) plus air fare of about $1,095. Students enrolled in a degree program can get up to six academic credits without added cost. Registration deadline is Thursday, Feb. 15.

A series of structured exercises will be conducted in Israel, taking place at locations such as Safed, Galilee, Jerusalem and the desert. Participants will explore inner change as they deepen their understanding of the nature of personal and spiritual growth and enhance their ability to facilitate such growth for other persons. Visits to historical and archaeological sites such as Masada, Megiddo and Qumran are planned.

For registration materials, contact Conrad L'Heureux at Department of Religious Studies, University of Dayton, 300 College Park, Dayton, Ohio, 45469-0001, or call (513) 229-4321.
