DEC. 6: CARE PACKAGES WILL HELP UD STUDENTS AVOID EXAM BLUES

Members of the Student Government Association (SGA) at the University of Dayton will be helping their fellow students get through exam week by assembling "care packages" of fruit, coffee and other small morale-boosting favors on Wednesday, Dec. 6 at 6 p.m. at the McGinnis Center, 301 Lowes St.

Students will receive packages ordered for them by other students or administrators, faculty and staff members. In addition to the care packages, SGA members arranged to have available UD tins containing a dozen of "Cneryl's Cookies" from the popular Columbus company.

About 30 SGA members will be on hand to help assemble the packages. Service club members will distribute the goodies on Thursday, Dec. 7 in time for a full weekend of studying before exams begin on Monday, Dec. 11.

For more information, contact the SGA office at (513) 229-4444.

DEC. 10: PRE-EXAM PRIMAL SCREAMS TO RING THROUGHOUT UD CAMPUS

Taking a cue from Oberlin College, which last year had 500 students participating, the University of Dayton Activities Organization (UAO) will be sponsoring a "Primal Scream" event on Sunday, Dec. 10 at 11 p.m. in the Kennedy Union Plaza.

The only object of the evening will be to scream--as loud as possible. It's one way of dealing with the stress caused by upcoming exams and last-minute studying. The event is open to all students.

For more information, call the UAO office at (513) 229-4280.

DEC. 10-14: EXAM SCHEDULE MEANS 24-HOUR FOOD SERVICE AT UD

University of Dayton students studying for exams will be able to order a pizza with everything or eggs over easy in the middle of the night as food service employees expand their hours for exam week Dec. 10 through 14.

The Kennedy Union food court on campus will be open 24 hours a day to help students make it through exam week. According to Gary Schmicker, food service director at Kennedy Union, the hours of 11 p.m. to 3 a.m. were last year's busiest time, with standing room only in the food court for the first three nights. In addition to the Union food court, two residence halls, Marycrest and Virginia W. Kettering, will be offering free coffee and snacks throughout the nights to help students keep up their strength.

For more information, contact Gary Schmicker at (513) 229-2236.
