(NOTE: This is an addendum to the newsletter which was circulated Monday, January 23 in lieu of the Campus Report of January 23 which could not be published because of the short week.)

A format for the faculty interview of Bro. Anthony Ipsaro, a presidential candidate, Tuesday, January 24, from 10 to 11:45 a.m. in the Boll Theatre has been determined by the Presidential Search Committee and the Academic Affairs Council, according to Lawrence Ulrich, temporary chairman of the Academic Affairs Council.

"The format is an attempt to establish effective and wide ranging faculty involvement in the search for our next president," Ulrich said, adding, the format will be similar for all the candidates.

The candidate will open the meeting with a brief statement. There will then follow a period of questioning by a select panel after which questions will be entertained from the rest of the faculty. Approximately 45 to 50 minutes will be set aside for questions from the panel with the balance of the period being taken up by questions from the floor.

"The panel's questions will be 'priming' questions," Ulrich emphasizes, adding, "further discussions and elaborations will be sought from the general faculty."

The select committee is comprised of members of 10 campus groups which have been identified as representing various sectors of faculty interest. Those groups are the Academic Affairs Council, the American Association of University Professors, the Faculty Affairs Committee, the Faculty Board, Faculty Development Committee, Finance Council, Graduate Council, Research Council, the Research Institute (non-administrators), and the Student Life Council.

Each group should meet sometime during the week following each candidate's appearance on campus and generate a summary consensus report based upon the candidate's assets and liabilities for the position, according to Ulrich. The report should be sent to the Presidential Search Committee within one week of the faculty interview of each candidate by mailing directly to Peter Kuntz; Presidential Search Committee; The Peter Kuntz Co.; Mid-city Station; P.O. Box 730; Dayton, Ohio 45402.

Reports from individual faculty members will also be considered by the Presidential Search Committee which will hold all documents of assessment in confidence.
