DAYTON, Ohio, January 26, 1982 -- A spirituality symposium, hosted by the University of Dayton Department of Religious Studies and Campus Ministry will be held on Monday, February 8, from 4 until 8 p.m. in Kennedy Union 222.

The purpose of the symposium is to provide an ecumenical approach to the inner life and prayer. Miriam Burkey, of Earlham College, will open the symposium with her presentation on Quakerism. This will be followed by a "quiet meeting." A quiet meeting is the quaker form of worship; a period of corporate meditation where nothing is said, with the assumption that the Holy Spirit is the convening spirit. One or more of the group may be moved to say or share something in this "non-structured" worship. A meal is available following this meeting. The cost of the meal is $3.60, and reservations should be made before February 4 by calling 229-2539.

After the meal, Father Robert Bouffier, S.M., a religion and theatre instructor at UD, will address the topic of Marian spirituality.

James Nelson, of the United Theological Seminary, will conclude the program with his presentation on John Wesley and Methodism.
