WOMEN'S HISTORY
DISCUSSED AT UD

DAYTON, Ohio, February 25, 1982 -- National Women's History Week will be recognized at the University of Dayton when Linda Kerber visits campus on March 11. She will discuss "Women's History: Past and Present" in Kennedy Union 153 at 7:30 p.m.

Kerber is a professor of history at the University of Iowa, and author of several books, essays, curriculum materials, book reviews and commentaries. Her most recent book, "Women's America: Refocusing the Past -- An Anthology," will be released next month. She has served on numerous committees including the Pulitzer Prize Committee, Society of American Historians, American Historical Association Committee on Women Historians, and the Nominating Committee of the American Association for the Advancement of the Humanities.

Since 1976, Kerber has been giving lectures and seminars at colleges and universities across the United States.

For more information on Kerber's visit, contact Betty Ann Perkins, UD Department of History, at 229-2848.
