ONE-WOMAN SHOW DOCUMENTS WOMEN'S STRUGGLES

DAYTON, Ohio -- "Sister! Sister!," a one-woman show that documents women's struggles and celebrates women's joys, will be performed by actor, United Nations Representative and Women's International Democratic Foundation member Vinie Burrows. She will perform at 8 p.m. Tuesday, Feb. 26, at the University of Dayton's Boll Theatre. The performance is free and open to the public.

Burrows began her career as a child actress on Broadway with Helen Hayes. She has appeared in several Broadway and off-Broadway productions and international festivals. Frustrated by the lack of quality roles for black actresses, Burrows created, produced and directed her own solo productions. She now has a repertoire of seven different one-woman shows that she has presented on more than 2,000 college campuses and international tours.

In 1986, she received the prestigious Paul Robeson Award from the Actors Equity Association for her commitment to human rights and her use of arts to create understanding and respect for diversity.

Burrows' performance will include selections from the writings of Winnie Mandela, Sojourner Truth, Sean O'Casey and Studs Terkel.
