Weekend Activities and Information
March 15-17, 1991

Overall, Friday, March 15, was a quiet and orderly day. There were no fires and one arrest within the ghetto and the Woodland/Chambers area. Supposedly, there was to be a major party on Lawnview (see attachment #1), however, no major activity occurred. On Friday afternoon the McGinnis Center staff distributed a flyer (see attachment #2) to students residing on Lawnview, the 400 block of Lowes Street and various houses on Kiefaber Street.

On Saturday, March 16, the day began with local bars opening at 5:30 a.m. and numerous house parties within the ghetto area. Flanagan’s and the Shed were the bars that opened at 5:30 a.m. and no major incidents were reported by the owners. As the day progressed, the major activity was occurring on the 400 block of Lowes Street where there were reports of 60-80 kegs plus a band playing into the early evening. Much of this activity was occurring at non-university houses.

At 7:30 p.m. the first fire occurred on the 200 block of Kiefaber with various pieces of furniture being burnt. The Dayton Fire Department extinguished this fire and closed the street for approximately 2 hours. The crowd on this street dispersed to various points of the ghetto. At approximately 9 p.m. and up until 2 a.m. the major activity took place on the 300 block of Lowes Street (McGinnis Plaza). At one point the crowd numbered close to 1200 people. Four fires occurred on the McGinnis Plaza and all were extinguished by university maintenance personnel. Overall there were 9 fires within the streets/and McGinnis Plaza and numerous (25-30) dumpster fires. The Dayton Fire Department remained on the perimeter of the ghetto for the remainder of the evening and all fires other than the first one were extinguished by maintenance or Public Safety personnel.

Sunday, March 17, was a quiet day, however, the ghetto was extremely cluttered with debris (mainly on Lowes, Kiefaber and small portions of Alberta). All debris was cleaned and the ghetto was in a reasonable condition by Sunday at 5 p.m. There were no fires or arrests this day.

Conclusions and Summary:

- 10 arrests involving 3 students and 7 non-students. One occurred on Friday and 9 on Saturday.

- 25 Public Safety citations were written up for disciplinary action, 7 on Friday, 15 on Saturday and 3 on Sunday. Dr. Schuerman, Joe Belle and Mary Sue Hufnagle will deal with these citations. Among the citations, 4 students will be seeing Dr. Schuerman.
for violations of setting fires or contributing to fires and throwing bottles at Public Safety/maintenance staff. Potential suspension for all four are pending.

- There were 25 keg registrations approved by the McGinnis staff: 10 on Friday, 14 on Saturday and 1 on Sunday. A number of keg registrations were denied due to timing and locations within the ghetto.

- Dr. Schuerman and Joe Belle are dealing with students, Mike Redden and Tim Grace, who coordinated activities (beer purchase, approximately 50 kegs, and band) for the 400 block of Lowes Street. Potential suspension for both students pending.

- Fires, 9 (street furniture type) all occurring between 7:30 a.m. and 2 a.m. Saturday, 25-30 dumpster fires all occurring Saturday 7:30 a.m.-6 a.m. Sunday.

- Many non-students in ghetto throughout weekend ranging from other universities, local high school students and students from the teams competing in the NCAA basketball tournament. Letters will go to Dean of Students at Universities where these students were apprehended for inappropriate action, i.e. Ball State, V.M.I.

March 21, 1991
TO: Everyone living on Lawnview Avenue
FROM: St. Patrick himself
DATE: March 11, 1991

I WOULD LIKE TO SEE ALL OF YOU LEPRECHAUNS ENJOYING A MAJOR BLOCK-PARTY ON LAWNVIEW THIS ST. PATTY'S DAY!

THIS MEANS EACH HOUSE ON LAWNVIEW SHOULD TRY TO HAVE 2 OR 3 KEGS ON SUNDAY, MARCH 17TH.

THIS ALSO MEANS PLANNING AHEAD:

* YOU'LL HAVE TO BUY THE KEGS SATURDAY AND SAVE THEM FOR SUNDAY
  (I REALIZE THIS WILL BE A CHALLENGE)

* YOU SHOULD ALSO TRY TO REGISTER THE KEGS AT MC GINNIS IF YOU LIVE IN A U.D. HOUSE, SO YOU DON'T GET BUSTED
  (I REALIZE THIS SUCKS)

IF WE TAP AT THE TOP'O'THE MORNIN' SUNDAY, THAT SHOULD GIVE EVERYONE ENOUGH TIME TO DRINK AT LEAST ONE BEER FROM EVERY KEG!!!
Notice: All Ghetto Residents

Whether you live in a University of Dayton house or in private landlord housing, the following state and/or local codes of behavior must be adhered to:

1) To serve an individual not of legal drinking age is a crime;

2) Large, disruptive parties which block roadways will not be tolerated;

3) Please do not throw bottles or other breakable objects onto the street or sidewalk; and

4) Do not engage in any behavior which involves fireworks, setting fires or preventing fire safety officers from delivering their services.

Violation of any of the above will involve disciplinary action or criminal charges being filed.

Please enjoy yourself this St. Patty's Day Weekend, but be responsible and respectful to fellow members of the UD community.

McGinnis Center Coordinator
