COLLEGE PLANNING DAY
TO BE HELD AT UD

DAYTON, Ohio -- Going off to college means facing many choices, and most students wait until their senior year in high school to make them.

The University of Dayton will help prepare younger high school students for these decisions earlier by sponsoring a pre-senior college planning day from noon to 4 p.m. Sunday, April 5, in Kennedy Union on campus. High school freshmen, sophomores and juniors and their families are invited to learn about making a smooth transition from high school to college.

No appointments or reservations are necessary.

Members of the Traveling Student Panel, a group of 90 students who travel in small groups to high schools around the state, will be on hand to give "honest, candid" advice on questions ranging from what to look for in a college to how to live on one's own.

Registration begins at noon followed by a welcome presentation on "How To Select a College Major" by Myron Achbach, UD's director of admission. Academic sessions will run from 1 p.m. - 1:45 p.m. and will be repeated from 2 p.m. - 2:45 p.m. Sessions will cover majors in UD's School of Business Administration, College of Arts and Sciences, School of Education, School of Engineering and the Engineering Technology Division.

At 3 p.m. participants will have a chance to choose from a financial aid presentation or the student panel discussion of academic and personal adjustment to college.
