AMERICAN CULTURE EXPERT LOOKS AT CLINTON PRESIDENCY

DAYTON, Ohio — Arthur Vidich, professor emeritus at the New School for Social Research in New York, will discuss challenges facing President Bill Clinton at 3 p.m.

Monday, April 5, in Miriam Hall O'Leary Auditorium at the University of Dayton.

Admission to the lecture, sponsored by the department of sociology, anthropology and social work at UD, is free and open to the public.

Vidich, an expert on American culture in society, is co-author of Small Town in Mass Society. He will talk about Clinton's "new covenant" within the context of America's Protestant-influenced culture. He will also focus on the challenges Clinton faces in gaining widespread approval for his programs for social policies.
