APRIL 17: UD STUDENTS PLANTING TREES, CLEANING UP NEIGHBORHOODS

The University of Dayton's Student Government Association and residential programs office are holding a residential landscaping and cleanup event from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. Saturday, April 17.

Called "Green Sweep," the event will involve students planting trees and plants, mulching, creating flower beds and picking up trash in several UD neighborhoods. On Saturday students will be working in the 1600 block of Brown Street, at the alumni house on L Street and at four houses on K Street.

An annual fall and spring student service project, the event is designed to enhance the appearance of UD's surrounding residential neighborhoods. About 100 students are expected to participate and will meet outside McGinnis Hall.

APRIL 17: NEIGHBORHOOD SPRING FESTIVAL TO ENCOURAGE 'COMMUNITY'

Residents of the Montgomery County Fairgrounds neighborhood are holding a spring festival from 2 to 6 p.m. Saturday, April 17. The festival will be held on Rubicon Road, between Frank Street and Wyoming Avenue.

"This event is to encourage residents of the neighborhood to get outside and meet one another in a fun atmosphere," said Stacy Wall, who helped plan the event. "This is the first time for the festival but we hope to make it an annual event."

Highlights of the festival will include music by the Kilwein Family Tree-0, an all-UD student group, and an opportunity for local children to have their faces painted and play basketball with members of the University's men's basketball team.

The event is supported by the University of Dayton and Miami Valley Hospital.
