

3-2-2000

Summer Appalachia Program 35th Reunion; Canadian Brass at UD Festival

Follow this and additional works at: https://ecommons.udayton.edu/news_rls

Recommended Citation

"Summer Appalachia Program 35th Reunion; Canadian Brass at UD Festival" (2000). News Releases. 8949.
https://ecommons.udayton.edu/news_rls/8949

This News Article is brought to you for free and open access by the Marketing and Communications at eCommons. It has been accepted for inclusion in News Releases by an authorized administrator of eCommons. For more information, please contact frice1@udayton.edu, mschlangen1@udayton.edu.

March 2, 2000
Contact: Pamela Gregg
gregg@udayton.edu

SATURDAY, MARCH 4: SUMMER APPALACHIA PROGRAM 35TH REUNION

Between 50 and 75 past participants of the University of Dayton's Summer Appalachia Program are expected to gather on campus for a reunion to celebrate the program's 35th anniversary on Saturday, March 4, in the McGinnis Center, 301 Lowes Street.

Students go to Salyersville, Ky., for nine weeks each summer for fellowship with the residents in the form of family and nursing home visits and holding day camp for children.

Featured guests will include Tony Pappano of Tell City Ind., a 1968 UD graduate and the first president of the Appalachia Club. Pappano, who said the course of his entire career as an adult was set by those visits, will roast club founders, Brother Ed Nadalsky, S.M., and the Rev. Cy Middendorf, S.M., at a dinner beginning at 6 p.m.

Other featured activities, all in the McGinnis Center, include:

- Noon, lunch;
- 1 p.m., a Powerpoint presentation and discussion on the program's history and future;
- 3 p.m., time for craft making and sharing photo albums;
- 4:30 p.m., Mass;
- 6 p.m., dinner and roast;
- 8 p.m., square dancing;
- 10 p.m., songs and story telling.

For more information, call Sister Nancy Bramlage, S.C., at (937) 229-2576.

SATURDAY, MARCH 4: CANADIAN BRASS AT UD FESTIVAL

Coordinators are hoping to create the largest brass ensemble in the Miami Valley during a featured performance activity in the University of Dayton's Brass Festival from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday, March 4.

The festival, open to all high school and college students brass students and adult performers and designed to enhance performing skills, will feature the internationally renowned Canadian Brass Ensemble in a master class at 10 a.m. in the Kennedy Union Boll Theatre.

At 3 p.m., the Pro Musica faculty brass trio will lead participants in an informal performance in Reichard Hall. Nearly 100 participants have registered to attend so far, and additional participants are expected on the day of the workshop.

For more information, call Richard Chenoweth, professor of music, at (937) 229-3925.