   C. Committee’s Actions:
      1. Motion: A motion was made and seconded to approve the course proposal as written. There was no further discussion.
      2. Vote: 10-0-0 (for-against-abstention).
4) HST 260: History of Pre-Modern East Asia
   A. Course Proposal Information:
      1. Proposer: Chris Agnew was present for the committee’s discussion.
      2. Components: Crossing Boundaries-Faith Traditions, Advanced Historical Studies
      3. Student Learning Outcomes: Scholarship (expanded), Faith Traditions (expanded), Diversity (expanded)
   B. Discussion:
      1. The proposer clarified how the course will address a key aspect of Faith Traditions courses that students will examine their own faith commitments and participate in dialogue with other faith traditions. There is no specific assignment planned at this point, but it will be a theme throughout the course and will be addressed through class discussions. Students will develop an understanding of how their faith beliefs fit into and differ from the conception of faith in other cultures.
      2. The committee appreciated the department’s efforts to develop 200-level courses for CAP, which will serve students well.
   C. Committee’s Actions:
      1. Motion: A motion was made and seconded to approve the course proposal as written. There was no further discussion.
      2. Vote: 10-0-0 (in favor-against-abstention).

5) HST 398: African American History before 1877
   A. Course Proposal Information:
      1. Proposer: Patricia Reid could not be present for the committee’s discussion. Juan Santamarina, department chair, was present.
      2. Components: Crossing Boundaries-Integrative, Advanced Historical Studies, Diversity and Social Justice
      3. Student Learning Outcomes: Scholarship (advanced), Diversity (advanced), Community (advanced)
   B. Discussion:
      1. It was noted that HST 398 and HST 399 are existing courses that are being revised for CAP. The proposal for HST 399 is forthcoming.
      2. The proposer discussed how the Community Student Learning Outcome (SLO) is addressed in the course. The course will facilitate students’ understanding of their community (e.g., race, gender, etc.). The section how the course builds on other CAP courses signals that the course engages students in application to their own lives and how they contribute to community.
      3. The committee’s interpretation is that a course should accomplish most of what a SLO is designed to do when it is at the advanced level. As assessment is conducted for the course, the department may find that some modifications are necessary (e.g., changing the developmental level or removing the SLO).
   C. Committee’s Actions:
      1. Motion: A motion was made and seconded to approve the course proposal as written. There was no further discussion.
      2. Vote: 10-0-0 (in favor-against-abstention).

II. Announcements
   A. The next two meetings – April 13 and April 20 – will focus on course reviews. It is likely that the committee will meet on April 27 and discuss issues related to the Catholic intellectual tradition and its connection with the Common Academic Program.

The meeting adjourned at 2:45 p.m.
