FRIDAY, SEPT. 24: UD STUDENTS CONDUCT 'FIELD DAY' FOR DAYTON WORKERS

About 40 students from University of Dayton exercise science and sports management classes will conduct a "field day" for about 130 Dayton-area Deloitte & Touche LLP employees from 1 to 5:30 p.m., Friday, Sept. 24, at the Dayton Gymnastic Club recreation park, 430 Wayne Ave.

The students will direct activities for 12 teams of employees in games such as Alaskan baseball, a chipping contest, kickball, a hula hoop relay, beachball volleyball, horseshoes, charades, "around the world" basketball, Oreo cookie stacking and a water balloon toss.

"This event provides UD students with hands-on experience on how to run an event," said Peter Titlebaum, assistant professor of health and sport science at UD. "It also allows them to put theoretical things they have learned in the classroom into principle."
